To Whom It May Concern:

My name is McCarley Golden, and I am writing in recommendation of Cheyenne McCain. I have had the pleasure of teaching Cheyenne for English IV Honors this year. I was also her softball coach her freshman year. She shows herself to be a strong student who strives to do her best in all things. She is hardworking, attentive to detail, and shows intention and kindness in her interactions with those around her.

Academically, Cheyenne is strong and performs well on assignments. One of her strengths is a sense of drive and focus. Cheyenne leads by example. Her discussions with classmates show great depth of thought and awareness of the world around her. She is attentive to detail in her assignments and stays focused even when those around her are off topic. She consistently works well with all of her peers and shows patience and understanding.

Another one of Cheyenne's strengths is her consistency. Rather than occasional flashes of hard work, Cheyenne consistently applies herself to the work in front of her, and this shows in every assignment and interaction.

Outside of class Cheyenne is involved in the Nolensville community. She has worked a job through most of her time in high school and spends her Sundays volunteering with the children's ministry at church. She also prioritizes time with her family, all while balancing and prioritizing what most needs her focus at any given time.

Cheyenne is truly an excellent young woman with academic drive and great moral fiber. I am thankful to have had the opportunity to teach her, and I know she has a bright future ahead. She has my full recommendation for scholarship.

Sincerely,
McCarley Golden
