To whom it may concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Daira Hernandez Rocha. I came to know Daira in her junior year of high school in my anatomy and physiology class. Through the last two years, I have witnessed Daira's academic performance and strength of personal character.

In terms of academics, Daira's record speaks volumes. She is remarkably intelligent, studious, and responsible for her learning. Daira is a student who is focused in the classroom and diligent in studying and completing homework and projects. Daira does an excellent job in time management by prioritizing her academics and extracurricular activities. She holds herself accountable and sets high standards to succeed in all her academic endeavors.

In terms of personal character, the words that I would use to best describe Daira are kind, honest, compassionate, empathetic, and hard-working. I will always cherish Daira's bravery and courage to open up to me about her hardships and vulnerabilities. It takes tremendous courage to be able to be authentic to others. Her honesty and bravery allowed Daira to grow as an individual and discover her strength to become a well-rounded person. I give Daira my highest recommendation with the greatest possible confidence and enthusiasm. Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

Most sincerely,
