

Bag packing day at Hunger Awareness Club. This photo inspires me in its action, and its simplicity. By showing up each week to pack bags, these volunteers took a simple step that made a big difference. Taking action at any level, from bag packing for the school district, to coordinating to solve global hunger issues inspires me.