To Whom it May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Isabella Francisco. I have known Isabella since August of 2022, first as a student in my English 9 Honors class at Rodriguez High School and more recently in my AP Literature course. Over the years, I have come to know Isabella as a determined, passionate, and sincere student who consistently strives for excellence in all they do.

From the very beginning of their high school career, Isabella distinguished themselves as an exceptional student. Like many students transitioning into advanced classes, they faced challenges adjusting to the rigor and expectations of honors-level coursework. Yet, even then, Isabella's perseverance and dedication were clear. I remember Isabella reaching out for help, determined to find their voice as a writer and willing to put in the effort needed to improve. Now, as a senior, the progress they have made is remarkable. Their growth in writing, public speaking, and collaboration has been truly impressive. Currently, as we read Frankenstein in AP Literature, Isabella's insights always stand out—they consistently offer unique, thought-provoking perspectives that elevate our class discussions.

While Isabella's academic achievements are commendable, what makes them truly extraordinary is their resilience. Isabella has faced health challenges and personal obstacles that required them to complete Long-Term Independent Study, yet they have never allowed those circumstances to limit their success. In fact, they continue to excel academically while remaining actively involved in extracurricular activities. Isabella is an advanced dancer with Chapkis Dance, serves as the secretary of the Red Cross Club, manages social media for the Found Threads Club, and has had their writing published multiple times in various publications. Their ability to balance a demanding schedule while maintaining an impressive GPA speaks volumes about their maturity, focus, and determination.

Isabella has expressed to me their desire to study psychology in college—a goal that reflects both their intellectual curiosity and their compassion for others. Having faced personal challenges, Isabella is deeply motivated to help and support those who may be struggling. I have no doubt that Isabella will bring the same empathy, insight, and perseverance to their future studies that they have demonstrated throughout high school. It is without hesitation that I recommend Isabella Francisco in all their future endeavors. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Regan Gibson
