

Attention Admissions Selection Committee;

It is with great pride and wholehearted enthusiasm that I am recommending Julissa Adams for admission to your institution. Julissa is, without question, one of the most genuine, honorable, and diligent students I have had the privilege to teach in my career; 25 years and still loving it. Her sincerity and perseverance set her apart in both the classroom and the community.

Julissa has stood out from day one in my class. She is a smiling force that wants to learn, enjoy, and most uniquely, take everyone else along the journey. So many times in my USI History class, the content would just click for Julissa. Her ability to link the past to the present, and make it relevant and real, would inspire others to question and want more. Julissa is a true asset!

She is the first in her family to attend college—a milestone she approaches with both humility and determination. Her leadership is evident not only in her academic achievements but in her actions: she is a youth activist through the local Elks Lodge, a dedicated Big Brothers and Sisters volunteer, and a reliable childcare provider for the Family Based Services Association. Each of these roles reflects her deep compassion for others and an unwavering commitment to making a difference.

Julissa's dream of becoming a child psychologist is rooted in a desire to serve, to heal, and to advocate. Her maturity and clarity of purpose are remarkable for someone her age. Whether in discussions or in service, she listens with care, speaks with empathy, and leads by example. Her presence lifts others, and her commitment inspires those around her.

I have no doubt that Julissa will thrive in college and beyond. She will not only excel academically, but she will also enrich your campus community with her heart, her voice, and her vision.

Sincerely,

William J Clark - Faculty
